CAPTAIN Richard May points to the spot where he and fireman Lyle Church (far right) saved the life of John Griffith, 52, who suffered 60 degree burns over his body last week in the 47 Werner avenue fire. Griffith died last Friday at Community Hospital. Paul Hopkins (center) suffered burns to his hands while fighting the fire. A fourth fireman in on the rescue, not pictured, was Sam Grado. May and Church also helped to save the life of Lloyd E. Tucker, 53, of 32 Price street, with a rescucitator in another fire last week.

COUNCIL FEELS AUDIT WILL 'CLARIFY' BUDGET

Patiently Waiting

This paper is patiently waiting for the city council to make its report to the people as to just what the situation is in regards to "discrepancies" in the fiscal budget. Seems as if no one actually knows. The long-awaited financial report for the fiscal year ending June 30 has not been submitted to the city—just three months after it should have been in the hands of the councilmen and open for inspection by citizens of Daly City who have a right to know.

What steps can and will be taken to prevent this sort of thing happening in the future? We do not know—but, we do invite our readers to make suggestions on this and other issues. Possibly the city manager form of government is not the answer that it was supposed to be. Too many Colonels and not enough privates.

The only public report we have heard was made by Councilman De Bernardi Monday night, answering a statement that the city's cash on hand this fiscal year was $90,000 lower than 12 months earlier. He said he felt this was "nothing to worry about" and "the city isn't in the business of making money." We wonder if taxpayers agree? It is an economic fact that a city is a business and its councilmen should be concerned with "saving" money.

CITY APPROVES 15-CENT HIKE FOR GARBAGE

Daly City residents will be paying 15 cents more for garbage collection beginning this month.

The city council Monday night granted the boost to the city-contracted Daly City Scavenger Company, after a detailed study of the firm's finances, its need for replacing time-worn equipment, and considering the fact that the old $1.10 per month garbage pick-up rate was one of the lowest in the Bay Area.

The rate increase means residents will now pay $1.25 a month for garbage service, 10 cents of which goes to the city for collecting the levy as part of water bills.

City Attorney Paul Hupf, Councilman Bob St. Clair and Councilman Micheal DeBernardi were the committee studying the rate request. Their recommendation was consistent with financial documents showing the need of the increase, submitted by President Al Sereni of the scavengers and his accountant, Richard Dwyer.

Hupf said the hike was based on three conditions the council expects the scavenger firm to fulfill to improve its service, bolster its fund for replacing equipment, and work toward a leveling off period when additional increases in the immediate years ahead would be kept at a minimum.

On Hupf's recommendation, the council will ask the scavengers to set aside lump sums each month to establish a sinking or equipment replacement fund, file quarterly statements on the firm's profits and losses, and periodically analyze its commercial and residential

FUND TRANSFERS EXPLAINED

Claim 'Discrepancies' Statement Premature

Daly City councilmen today are awaiting City Auditor Bob Hunter's fiscal 1958-59 year-end report on the city's financial status and next week are expected to authorize a full-scale general audit to establish what the council feels will be a "true picture" of the city's books.

At last Thursday's adjourned meeting, the five councilmen asked for more qualification from Hunter and City Finance Director Joseph Arch on statements published earlier that there were "discrepancies" in the last budget, cash-on-hand starting the new fiscal year was some $90,000 lower than 12 months earlier, and that there were 11 unauthorized temporary employees in the water and street departments.

Councilman Frank Pacelli opened by asking auditor Leonard Bullis, hired with auditor Charles Ethel to make a brief examination of the city's books following the firing of City Manager George Watts, to again explain how much time Bullis and Ethel spent on the project.

Bullis verified the finance director's statement that he (Bullis) and Ethel did not make a written report and spent less than a day talking with department heads and looking into the budget reports.

City attorney Paul Hupf, acting city manager who earlier cited the "discrepancies" in budget procedures and the non-budgeted 11 men confirmed that his report on the $90,000 drop in cash on hand was taken from the city treasurer's report.

Pacelli then asked Arch if Hupf's statements represented a true picture of the city's financial status. The finance director answered that it did present a true cash expenditure figure at the time it was taken, but that this figure was preliminary and did not take into account "transfers of prior years which will adjust this figure."

Hunter repeated Arch's assertion that Hupf's figures were taken from a trial balance and that his expected year-end report would show normal adjustments to modify the figures used by Hupf. Arch added that these transfers of funds were authorized by the council and could be verified by checking council meeting minutes.

Councilman Bob St. Clair, referring to the newspaper article concerning the hiring of

Callan Concedes, Eastmoor Avenue Agreement Seen

At long last, Callan Company is moving for a final agreement to realign Eastmoor avenue—a delay that has brought the wrath of the city council, St. Francis Heights homeowners, and the school district.

A four-hour meeting Monday, called by Mayor Edward Dennis, produced a statement by Tom Callan Jr. that he was ready to begin the realignment on a joint basis with Zita Corporation.

Zita, long pleading for Callan to fulfill its commitment on the link, and the council feel it's up to Callan to make good on his promises.

A rough estimate on the "solution" proposal is that the project will require an expenditure of only about $20,000. The street could be realigned in less than a month.

According to the council, the agreement would find one contractor doing the work, with Callan and Zita sharing costs of the improvement on the basis of where the street fronts their properties.

The city still must have clear title to the portion to be realigned. This Callan has agreed

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY

Construction Report On School Projects Reads 'On Schedule'

Jefferson Elementary School District, accommodating roughly 7350 youngsters to date, is making steady progress on new facilities in its timetable building program to eleminate double sessions in 1960.

Asst. Supt. Dr. David Shapiro reported today that except for a limited shortage of steel, the under-construction Abe Lincoln, Thomas Edison and Daniel Webster K-6 schools should be ready—as scheduled—for students by February 15 next year. Lincoln and Edison are on the same site in Westlake Unit 10 (south of Westmoor High) and Webster is in St. Francis Heights south of Eastmoor avenue. Each school, designed by Architect Angus McSweeney, will have 12 classrooms and a kindergarten.

The two extra classrooms being added to Jefferson (work begins in three weeks), at a cost of $84,000, should be ready before the first of the year, Shapiro estimated. Architect for this project is Mario Ciampi, who also designed the three classroom additions being made to Olympia School, total cost of $131,000. The Olympia work also should be finished early next year.

Fire Prevention Weeks Features Demonstrations

Daly City firemen got an early start on Fire Prevention Week, officially proclaimed here for October 4-10 by Mayor Edward Dennis.

Since Monday fire drills have been conducted at all local public and parochial schools, posters have been given to merchants for display, and students are competing in the annual poster contest which brings a perpetual trophy to the most fire-safety-conscious school.

Battn. Chief Frank Specht, in charge of the Fire Prevention Bureau, is supervising the Fire Week program, assisted by Captains Allen Brush and Ward Albee.

Next week firemen will stage demonstrations at all the schools, using both ancient and modern equipment to show youngsters how effective prevention methods are executed.

Firemen first will don old fire uniforms and use old bucket-brigade techniques and a 1907 fire cart in fighting a plywood building blaze. Then they will show how the job can be handled easily with up-to-date equipment.

Winners of the school-wide poster competition will be announced by the judges in two weeks.

PROMPT RESCUE EFFORT, BUT FISHER DIES

Cresanto Abrenica, 56, gardener, Box 1721 Colma, died of a heart attack Sunday morning despite the efforts of three police departments, firemen, M&D Ambulance operators and a Coast Guard helicopter.

An unidentified citizen reported to police that a man was lying on the beach near the surf at Thornton Beach. Officer William Schumacher and an M&D Ambulance arrived at the closed section of the Coast road. Oxygen was administered by ambulance attendants to the gardener for the Golden Gate Wholesale Florists.

Firemen arrived at the scene and decided it was necessary to despatch a helicopter. The Coast Guard answered the call. The helicopter brought Abrenica to Pierce street and Junipero Serra boulevard while Broadmoor police and the State Highway Patrol blocked traffic.

Broadmoor police took the man from the copter to Junipero Serra hospital. He was pronounced dead on arrivel.

Simon Miran, 54, Box 1712, Colma, the man's nephew, said he, Abrenica and Felix Omotoy, 54, went surf fishing at 6 a.m. Abrenica caught a large bass, approximately 40 pounds, then apparently suffered a heart attack, Miran said.

Miran said he left to call an ambulance, but before he could contact it, one already appeared at the scene. Miran said Abrenica is survived by his wife, Taribia E. Abrenica, who lives in the Philippine Islands.

STARR DUNHAM HOSPITALIZED BY HEART ATTACK

Starr Dunham, chairman of Daly City's personnel board and former president of Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association, is recovering at St. Luke's Hospital following a heart attack he suffered Tuesday last week at his home.

Dunham cannot have visitors this week, but his wife expects he will be home within the next 14 days.

Starr, 63, is vice-president of McKenzie and Harris Typographers of San Francisco. A Daly City resident the past nine years, he resides at 80 Cliffside drive, Westlake.

DC Schools Resume Staggered Day Plan

Next Monday, October 5, children in Jefferson Elementary School District in grades one through three will begin school on a "staggered day" schedule.

Each class will be divided into two groups according to reading ability. One group will attend school from 9 until 2 o'clock and the other group from 10 a.m. until 3. The first and last hour of each day devoted exclusively to reading. This enables teachers to spend one whole hour with only half of the class and thus give more individual attention.

Schools on double session, because of time requirements, will not participate in the staggered day program, according to District Supt. Richard L. Foster.

Parents will be notified of the hours when their children attend and bus schedules will be revised accordingly.

Council Wants A 'Manager,' Not An Aide

Daly City's next city manager will be a man who presently is a city manager in another California community. The council added this prerequisite to its $15,000 minimum salary guarantee last Thursday night in approving a letter to be sent city managers by the State Personnel Board.

The state agency, headed by Kenneth Byers, immediately will send letters advertising Daly City's vacancy to every city manager in California—a field of more than 200 men. Those who reply will have their records screened by the state, then the board will call in or travel to interview the most qualified applicants.

Five names eventually will be submitted to the council by Byers' staff. The council has agreed to pick one of these men after thoroughly interviewing each.

Mayor Edward Dennis and Bob St. Clair last emphasized the need for employing a man who at present is a city manager instead of considering an applicant who is an assistant

Banker Pisani New President Of DC Chamber

Louis Pisani, 50-year-old manager of the top-of-the-hill Daly City branch of Bank of America, will be installed on October 15 in a 7:30 p.m. dinner ceremony at Westlake Bowl as president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Ted Harris, manager of First Western Bank here.

Pisani has been in banking 32 years and has managed the local branch since April of 1955. He lives at 611 Nevada avenue, San Mateo, with his wife, Olga. They have two sons, Louis P. Pisani Jr., 22, and Robert D. Pisani, 20.

Other officers to be installed are Ed Morgan, high school superintendent, vice-president; Joe Rohl, Pacific Gas and Electrict Company manager, secretary; and Bill Sweeney Jr., auto dealer, treasurer.

Adult School Offers Course In Russian At Jefferson High

Jefferson High School District, headquartered in Daly City, will score educational "firsts" in California next Tuesday when a course in "Beginning Russian" begins as an experimental feature of the Adult School program.

According to Louis Martin, the district's Adult School director and assistant business manager, the offering marks the first time in the state that Russian and TV have been offered and utilized on the Adult School level.

Station KQED, Channel 9, will "pipe" films on the Russian language into the Jefferson High classroom each week, supplementing the lectures of instructor Don Kambic, language and social studies instructor at Jefferson High.

A class limit of 25 students has been set by Martin. Enrollment can be made immediately by phoning Martin at the district office, PL 5-1162. Only fee for the course is $1 for registration.

"We are trying out this course," Martin said, "and if response is sufficient and the results are good, we will offer Russian and the TV-type instruction on a year-around basis."

Martin explained that Rus-

Park Commission Vacancy Filled

Wilfred H. O'Rourke Jr., a driver-salesman for a San Francisco milk company, was appointed to the Daly City parks and recreation commission Monday night on motion of Mayor Edward Dennis.

O'Rourke, who resides at 237 Lincoln avenue in Westlake Unit 10, fills the unexpired term of Milton Reiterman, another Westlake resident who resigned due to business obligations.

O'Rourke's term will expire in May of 1962.

City Jobs Survey Report Due Tonight In Joint Meeting

The state personnel board will meet with Daly City's personnel commission this Thursday night at War Memorial building to make a report on results of a field study on municipal jobs. The session starts at 8.

Copies of the state report on the job evaluations of the 180 Daly City workers will be made available to the employees. If employees feel their positions have been underevaluated they will be allowed to protest in writing.

The state agency later will file its completed report with the council.

Marcus Gives A Timetable

HOSPITAL VOTE NEXT JUNE?

June of 1960 is the likely "target date" for an election to establish a north county hospital within the next five years, Dr. Sanford Marcus, chairman of the Physicians Hospital Committee, today told the newspaper.

His statement echoed his statements at last week's hospital drive "harmony" session at Colma School. The meeting produced an agreement that the mayors of Daly City, South San Francisco and Pacifica would lead the now concerted hospital drive, assisted by councilmen of the three cities, representatives of the adjacent unincorporated areas, and groups such as the 75 physicians who have worked for a well organized effort.

Mayor Andrew Rocca of South San Francisco is chairman of the mayors' committee. SSF Councilman Leo Ryan last week said his hospital group would continue to cooperate with the central committee. A similar expression was made by Daly City Mayor Edward Dennis. Mayor Jean Fassler of Pacifica reaffirmed her community's backing of a central committee.

Marcus said all representatives agreed on the need for the hospital, on paper a 100-bed, $2,000,000 tax-supported project that necessitates ratification by north county residents at the polls, establishment of a north county hospital district, and acquisition of at least a 10-acre site.

Due to the proximity of the Peninsula Hospital district to the south, the north county has low priority for federal or state funds to finance the hospital, Marcus pointed out.

A special tax and a donation drive are necessary therefore to achieve the hospital, the sian was selected for the experiment due to the trend of current events (accelerated by the Krushchev visit), the need for more understanding of the Russian people, and the limited, at present, instruction of this foreign language in the United States.

There is a possibility that if enough registrations are received, Martin will establish another class this semester in Russian in addition to the one taught by Kambic. Westmoor High's faculty includes two teachers who also are versed in written and spoken Russian. Martin said. They are Norman MacDonald, French and Spanish instructor, and George Simon, mechanical drawing teacher.

Persons who complete the Russian course satisfactorily this June will adance to planned intermediate courses in the language.

Kambic's class will be held on Tuesday evenings, from 7 to 9 o'clock, at Jefferson High. All Daly City adults are eligible to enroll, regardless of previous educational background.

Supt. Edward Morgan of the high school district and trustees again complimented Martin on his project Monday night and authorized the purchase of TV sets to be used in the program. KQED soon will feature the class and its accomplishments as part of the station's "Kaleidoscope" program, relayed throughout the country.

CITY MANAGER

manager or an administrative aide.

Councilmen Joseph Verducci and Frank Pacelli differed with this limitation, declaring that some assistant managers in larger cities might be most capable and should be considered. Verducci said he felt if the field were restricted to present managers the city's choice would be somewhat limited.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi said he felt the city shouldn't hold up the progress of getting a new adminstrator by eliminating assistant managers from applying. The final decision, he reminded, is up to the council which will make its own eliminations.

Byers is expected to submit another report on the results of the letters to city managers within three weeks.

An estimate as to when Daly City will have a new city manager is about mid-November.

to accomplish by paying off a trust deed to McKeon.

If Callan fulfills his pledge, his firm and Zita will share the costs of all utilities storm drainage and sewage. Callan also will be required to install a 14-inch water main along Eastmoor. He will be reimbursed for this by the city.

Councilman Joseph Verducci was the lone "doubting Thomas" Monday night when Dennis declared the realignment agreement was virtually solved.

"I'd like to see it in writing," Verducci declared.

Verducci followed with an unanimously backed motion that council action on the rezoning of Callan's 21 acres in the Eastmoor realignment area come up for resolution vote at the October 13 regular council meeting.

It is felt that if Callan reneges on his commitments to realign the road, the council will return the entire 21 acres to R-1 zoning (homes) from its present classification of R-1, R-3 (apartments) and C-1 (shopping center).

Westmoor Gardener Booked For Theft On School Grounds

Oliver Haynes, a former Westmoor High School gardner, was arrested by police sergeant Charles Terry last week after he admitted taking a radiator and a battery and selling them to a Colma waste material company.

The owner of the company positively, identified a picture of Haynes, taken for the school yearbook, as the man who sold him the radiator. The gardener stated he took the items while he was procuring some equipment from the high school's auto shop.

He first took the items to the boiler room and hid them, returning later and removing them.

Haynes was released on $250 bond and is to appear in municipal court next Thursday.

Principal Glen South, reported the theft and District Superintendent Ed Morgan worked with police in tracking down the missing gardener.

Shapiro Cites School Projects

Four months is the contract time on the $30,000 music room addition at Ben Franklin School. Ciampi also is in charge of this project.

Shapiro said the district will open bids on the Fernando Rivera K-6 School construction next Monday night. This school, located on 5.14 acres next to Westlake Park (total school acreage 13.4 by using park for recreation), will cost an estimated $529,000. It is also a Ciampi project and should be finished by August of 1960.

At the October 13 State Allocations Board meeting, the district will ask $618,212 in state funds for the construction of the George Washington K-6 School, to be bounded by Hanover, Bellevue and Whittier streets, occupying 6.16 acres. Site development alone on this McSweeney project will amount to $108,000. Biggest "clearing job" involves the old Meussdorfer property, forest-like estate that lies in the center of the proposed school site. The Washington school should be open to students in late 1960, according to Shapiro.

The district also will request $316,714 from the state to build a central district headquarters building, on the northeast corner of the Lincoln-Edison double site in Westlake Unit 10 south of Lincoln avenue. This structure may be completed by July or August in 1960.

A replacement for antiquated General Pershing School in the 600 block of Hanover street also is included for early 1960 completion. Bids for construction in this estimated $299,000 project will be advertised soon. The old school will be torn down and its space utilized in the expanded site totaling 1.3 acres when the new building is completed. The new structure will house six classrooms for kindergarten through second graders. McSweeney is the architect for this project, too.

M. Pauline Brown K-6 School, to be located on the north end of St. Francis Heights fronting Eastmoor avenue, should be finished by December of 1960. Total cost is estimated at $690,000, $379,000 of which is for the building itself. Plans are before the state division of architecture for final approval.

Total costs listed on all the abovementioned projects include architects' fees, site development and contingencies.

McSweeney is handling his projects for the district at a fee of 6 per cent. Ciampi's projects each bring him 8 per cent of the total contract.

HOSPITAL PLAN

Westlake doctor pointed out.

Location of the hospital, Marcus went on, should be where it would be centralized and best serve the district as a whole. Sites studied thus far are west of Junipero Serra near the old Chinese cemetery and east of Daly City in the Crocker Hills area—both undeveloped acreages.

Some state and federal funds may be possible, Marcus reasoned, but the bulk of the needed money will have to come from a special tax. The hospital site may be acquired via donation by one of the major landowners in the area.

An adequately sized and well staffed hospital is an asset to any area," Marcus emphasized. "But it's up to the public to get behind this drive if we are to realize success and meet the pressing need for this facility."

Garbage Hike

pickup rates to make sure its fees are proper, depending on the type and extent of collection made from home, multiple dwellings and business houses.

Hupf pointed out that the scavengers have agreed that stockholders of the firm will not be granted salary increases, although cost-of-living considerations might mean wage boosts for Sereni's regular workers.

The unincorporated areas served by Sereni's company also are affected by the 15-cent collection boost. Rates there will be slightly higher as they were before.

Hupf explained that the equipment replacement fund would save the scavengers the heavy interest they have paid in the past on loans in borrowing money due to the low cash-on-hand status of the firm.

The garbage company under this replacement fund buildup will accomplish this by placing $500 a month into this reserve, starting this month and running for two more months. For each three-month period thereafter heavier amounts ($750, $1000 and $1250) will be deposited into this fund. This buildup would be continued indefinitely.

DeBernardi voiced the feeling of the council that the 15-cent boost now and the establishment of the replacement fund was made in an effort to stabilize the scavengers' operation. He said that once the firm is a little more on its feet additional rate increase requests would not be necessary so frequently. It might be possible, he added, that some day the garbage rate may even be lowered if the company's financial status is improved.

Council Moves To Revoke 'High' Wall Permit On Westdale Avenue

The city council Monday night unanimously voted to revoke the use permit granted three months ago to Stuart Bartz, 1 Westdale avenue, Westlake, because the resident has ignored city and Westlake Improvement Association instructions to comply to regulations in erecting a wall-patio cover on his property.

A lawsuit is probable against Bartz. Mayor Edward Dennis has asked Bartz' neighbor, Julio Profumo, of 3 Westdale, and the Westlake Association to join the city if a suit is necessary.

City Attorney Paul Hupf informed the council the city had exhausted every effort to make Bartz comply with the intention of the use permit. Misrepresentation on the part of Bartz when he was granted the use permit to construct the wall-patio cover is the key point that will be pursued by the city.

Profumo initiated the protest again Bartz on the high wall-patio last year, charging it was obstructing the view from his front porch and was opposed by all residents of the neighborhood. The two neighbors haven't been on speaking terms for months.

Last June 8 in public hearing, Bartz was granted a use permit to erect a 6-foot wall and translucent cover. A few weeks ago Profumo informed the city and association that Bartz had exceeded the six feet and was violating the terms of the use permit. Bartz contends his structure is still within the specifications of the use permit.

A stop order was sent to Bartz by this council. Hupf said this was ignored, as was the city attorney's attempts to work out a satisfactory solution with Bart and his attorney, Jack Dooling.

Councilman Bob St. Clair Monday night reiterated that the council "has given Bartz every opportunity to rectify the condition, but apparently he has no intention of doing so."

Virgil P. Anderson, WIA director, expressed his group's backing of the council revocation at Monday's meet. The association maintains that Bartz' wall violates its deed restrictions.

Bartz was not present, nor was his attorney.

FREAK FIRE INJURES WIFE ON WESTHAVEN

A unique accident occurred at the Westlake home of John and Mary Bundros last Saturday morning when an explosion and resulting fire caused an estimated $1000 damage and placed Mrs. Bundros, 38, in the hospital.

At 6:40 a.m. the couple smelled gas and believed at first that it was coming from outside. Later, they went down to check in the garage at 86 Westhaven drive and found their station wagon was leaking gas.

When the garage door was opened, the air rushed in and allowed the fumes to circulate to the hot water heater—thus the explosion.

The fire started and enflamed the robe of Mrs. Bundros. Battalion Fire Chief Wayne Alexander said she suffered first degree burns on her right leg and second degree burns on her left toes when she tried to stomp out the fire. She was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance.

Eight firemen fought the fire 20 minutes before bringing it under control. Damage to the auto was estimated at $800 and to the building at $200.

WESTLAKE MAN ARRESTED AS DRUNK IN CAR

John T. Willingham, 38, 64 Menlo avenue, Westlake, was arrested for being drunk in and about an auto and released on $50 cash bail last Wednesday. He was to appear in municipal court Tuesday this week.

Officer Tom Culley foud Willingham sitting in his car, which was severely damaged in the front and right front, at Alemany boulevard near Dorchester street.

The car was on the wrong side of the street, facing west in the eastbound lane. It had stalled after a collision with the auto of Norman E. Merkel, 33, of 1 Ashland avenue. Culley came upon Willingham who was trying to start the engine.

Asked if he had been drinking, Willingham admitted he had, according to Culley. Willingham stated he wasn't aware of the accident and Culley believes he must have "blacked out" at the time.

Merkel, employed by the Federal Aviation Agency at San Francisco Airport, said his car sustained moderate damage to the rear end.

Audit Awaited

the 11 "unauthorized" men, asked Public Works Director Otis Calhoun for an explanation.

Calhoun, whose statements were supported by Hupf, said the city manager (Watts) put the men to work after asking if Calhoun could utilize the temporary men. Calhoun emphasized that he assumed funds for these men were available but that he (Calhoun) accepted the men only after the city manager — who should know if the men were budgeted or not—authorized the hiring.

The council appeared to be in agreement that the assignment of these men was initiated and authorized by Watts.

At Monday's regular council meeting, Councilman DeBernardi again pinpointed auditor Bullis on the extent of the Bullis and Ethel examination of the city's books.

Stating that the council was not challenging Bullis' integrity, DeBernardi asked if Bullis and Ethel were given any instructions in making their brief check of the books, how much time they took, if they filed a written report, and how long a complete audit would take.

Bullis replied that he was given no instructions, that his reports were made orally to Hupf and Arch, that about four or five hours was all he and Ethel spent in their work here, and that a full audit would take three men about three weeks.

As for the full-scale audit proposal, this was made several weeks ago by the council, Hupf, and since then has been endorsed by Arch and Hunter to bring all the facts into view.

The council feels the matter of the 11 employees has been settled. These employees have been dismissed, although the council felt that the city manager made the appointments with the knowledge that funds were available in Public Works for the addition of these men.

Hunter's year-end report on fiscal 1958-59 is due next week. At next Thursday's study session the national auditing firm recommended by Hupf to do the general audit will discuss costs and procedures with the council.

Hunter said he estimates the full audit will cost the city about $3500.

Jail Brisbaner For Three-Car Serra Accident

Kenneth G. Ross, 21, 1145 Humboldt Road, Brisbane, was arrested for drunk driving, misdemeanor hit-run and violation of the speed law last Friday after a three-car collision resulting in two injuries.

The mechanic's bail was set at $1000.

Two passengers in his vehicle, Blanchard Weldon, 18, 194 McKinley street, and William Bebout, 18, 1492 Revere street, both San Francisco, said Ross fled on foot from the Junipero Serra bouleverd and Knowles avenue accident.

Both told Officer Richard Sims he had been drinking prior to the accident and was under the influence of alcohol. This was later proved correct at Junipero Serra Hospital when a "positive" sobriety test resulted.

Sims spotted Ross walking north of Mission street at Guttenberg street in San Francisco. Asked his name and if he had been involved in an accident, Ross gave his name and replied that he had.

He told Sims he had bought a beer and taken but two sips and then left after the accident. None of the bartenders at local taverns could say if Ross had entered or not.

Ross' statement to the police read, in part: "I was traveling a little over the speed limit. After the accident I became scared, because I am on probation, and left the scene of the accident. I'm sorry that I hurt the people."

Walter E. Wright, 25, 55 Pinehurst Way, San Francisco, an installer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, said he stopped at the stop signal and was waiting for the green light.

Charles William Martzell, 29, 627 14th street, San Francisco, attending the College of Physicians and Nurses, said he stopped behind Wright. He stated Ross' vehicle banged into his and the two women passengers were injured.

LET THE 'MAJORITY' DECIDE

At its regular meeting of October 13 the city council ll take action on applications for rezoning several s on Garibaldi and Price streets from R-1 to R-3 for artments.

The council has been beset by heavy protests by meowners in the affected area which is predomi- tely residential. These people want to maintain this sidential atmosphere and are not agreeable to the trusion of apartments under any circumstances.

"Spot" zoning is a charge worth weighing in the al decision. The homeowners who have lived there any years have a right to be heard on action that uld produce unwanted changes to their neighbor- od.

It is clear that if the council "considers" the jority of residents who are fighting this rezoning, action would be consistent with the wishes of these ople.

Apartments may be fine from a financial stand- int. But, if they are opposed by the people of this ighborhood—and opposed with logical reasoning— wonder if it would be practical and politically wise r the council to act contrary to the feeling of this ajority."

They include school betterment projects, asses in parent education, scholastic encouragement through holarships and loans and support for school facilities expansion.

This year's theme, "Guidance as They Grow—Join the PTA," flects the dual role to which the Parent-Teacher Association dedicated. It is the education of both child and parent through tivities in support of California's public schools.

Your local PTA needs and deserves the membership of the arents of all California public school students.

THLETICS, ACCIDENTS

Morgan Explains High School District's Insurance Coverage

There is no type of health or ccident plan for local high chool students, excepting those articipating in athletics, Sup- rintendent Ed Morgan of Jef- rson High District reported oday.

Jefferson and Westmoor thletes are insured through he California Interscholastic ederation at a rate "that com- ercial companies would find ard to compete with," Morgan aid. Budgeted for athletic in- rance this year is $4500, paid y the district.

Other district costs are $6500 er annum for general liability upil protection, assuring $300,- 00 protection for each indi- idual accident and one million ollars for each occurance.

Premiums cost $2900 per year or fire and vandalism coverage p to $4,524,000, Morgan noted. The buildings are insured up o 90 per cent of their value, he reason being that it would e rare indeed that both schools would be demolished at the ame time."

"We have almost every type f insurance available, but in rder for persons to collect on harged negligence or that we ontributed to an accident would have to be proven," he ointed out.

Premiums for all district in- urance total $14,400 a year nd are written on either three r five-year programs. Fire is vritten for five, while liability, onds and mishap coverage vritten for three.

Morgan recalled that once when he was in another district he large vault-type safe was obbed. The school district re- eived the insurance for the unds which were taken from the safe, but was not paid for the damage the burglar's acete- lyne torch did to the safe— $2000.

The district here has a com- prehensive "dishonesty and de- struction" policy which insures against damage to safe or other fund containers.

Six More Firms To Build Plants In South City

Construction gets underway this week on six new manufac- turing and distributing plants in South San Francisco where a new industrial tract has been designed especially for smaller firms.

Louis Poletti, industrial and commercial realtor and head of Poletti Realty, Daly City, an- nounced sales to the new firms having a total investment of more than $1 million.

The new industrial area is called Starlite Industrial Sub- division and is located just off Linden avenue between El Camino Real and South San Francisco's downtown area.

The 11-acre subdivision was developed by Hart and Hynding Inc., general contractors of San Francisco. The plant sites range from 8000 to 200,000 square feet.

Poletti said the first six firms will occupy their new buildings before the end of the year. They are the American Greetings Corporation, now located in San Francisco; Aero Heating and Sheet Metal Co., Daly City; Coakley Plumbing and Heating Co., South San Francisco; Early American Paint Co., Daly City; Oliver Electronics Co., Daly City, and California Anodizing Co., a newly established firm made up of San Francisco and Peninsula businessmen.

THIS is how Thornton Beach below Westlake looked a few years back when an access road allowed residents to park close to the beach. A community effort is underway to retrieve some $61,900 allocated for the beach development. The state transferred the funds to other projects in San Mateo County because Daly City failed to ascertain liability on faulty drainage pipes below old Coast Highway overlooking the beach. This drainage problem made the state hesitate on developing the beach, a state park, as that agency had intended earlier when earmarking the $61,900.

Letters To The Editor

Dan Casentini Cited By Reader For Public-Minded Endeavors

Dear Editor:

This letter is dedicated to the Italian-American Federation of San Mateo County and to one of its founders and leaders, Dan Casentini, local resident of 178 Edgemont drive, Daly City.

On October 11, hundreds of people will again enjoy the annual Columbus Day banquet sponsored by the Italian-American Federation of San Mateo County. The knowledge that their contributions will be used to futher the program of the Rehabilitation and Research Center for crippled children and adults will compensate them sufficiently. But the IAF and President Dan Casentini feel their work along this line has just begun.

The Italian-American Federation originated as a council of clubs, constituting five organizations in the county. Headed by Dan Casentini, the federation has succeeded in uniting different groups with representative powers. Dan has been the pathfinder, endeavoring to bring together all groups for the betterment of the community in general.

As a student, soldier, entertainer, grocer, spokesman, president, husband and father, Dan has always done his part as a citizen through his promotional deeds.

"Good has been accomplished only because my organization is good," Dan, who has led the IAF for more than three years, has been heard to remark.

Yes, Dan, but there was no organization to stand behind you that night in Colombo Hall as you and another young student appealed with your memorized speeches for the public vote for a new elementary school. The public voted, a new school was built, and Dan Casentini, aged 13, began his career as a public servant.

The Daly City-Colma community can never forget the tears in the eyes of Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, one of Dan's former teachers, when she was awarded the "Citizen of the Year Plaque" through his efforts. Now deceased, Mrs. Brown will shortly be honored by the building of a school bearing her name in the St. Francis Heights area. This was almost six years ago, but we know that Mrs. Brown's services would have unrecognized if Dan had not established this award for her.

Athletes who are still at the pinnacle of their fame—Ed Cereghino, Don Mossi, and Bob Silvestri—werebrought to the public light in their local community through a testimonial dinner instigated by Dan Casentini.

The IAF has benefited so many young people through its scholarship program in the past for needy students of San Mateo County. But not only have the young been helped. A single telephone call to Radio Station KSFO a few years ago started donations pouring in for the Yuba City Flood Campaign. Yes, Dan and the IAF turned a $100 donation into more than $5000.

As the father of six, Dan is currently president, secretary pro-tem, and publicity director of the IAF. He served on the Daly City library commission and devoted every time and effort for the improvement of all Italo-American groups.

We know Dan is too modest to mention these deeds himself. He is too sensitive to let others know all the good his charities and appeals have accomplished.

A Jefferson High School graduate, Dan's wife, Frances, has been his guiding light, the inspiration behind his dreams and ambitions.

Dan is always inducing others to unite in representatie groups similar to the IAF. He is a born leader of men, a true American. It's about time we salute Dan and say "thank you," thank you" for helping us to live in a real spirit of understanding and friendship.

GARDEN CLUB THANKS PUBLIC FOR RESPONSE

Dear Editor:

Mrs. Ward McLeod and Mrs. Clair M. Yohn on behalf of the members of the Daly City Garden Club wish to extend their thanks to the people of Daly City for their enthusastic response to the garden club's sixth annual flower show.

One of the highlights of the show was the magnificent display made by the members of the staff of the Recreation Department, under the supervision of the Director Dee Van Nest. Another added attraction was the Daly City Municipal Band under the leadership of George Brenner, which added to the festive air at the opening of the show. The Garden Club appreciates also the help they received from the Daly City Fire Department in assisting them in checking over the materials used in the staging of the show to make the occasion not only an enjoyable but a safe one, free from and fire hazards.

The commercial exhibits from local merchants, Rod McClellan Orchids, Joe's Nursery, Westlake Florists and the participating flower societies, added to the amatuer divisions to make this a truly interesting and educational flower show. There isn't another garden club on the Penisula that received the community support that our local garden clubs enjoys, and to show their appreciation of their community the local club works very hard to put on a first class flower show as one of the civic events that is looked forward to each year with eagerness by many in Daly City.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Joseph Schultz

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

On behalf of the Daly City Police Department and the hundreds of boys who belong to our Police Athletic League, I wish to express our deepest gratitude to you and your newspaper for the excellent support given to our recent PAL benefit bowling tournament.

Due in large part to the attention and considerations of the press, the tournament raised some $4750, which will go a long ways towards financing the many facets of the PAL program.

With your continued help and understanding we are certain that PAL can play a large part in helping "Build Better Boys," which is our motto. Again, all of us are grateful for your support.

Sincerely,
Roland A. Petrocchi

Daly City will look extremely prudent from a progressive standpoint should San Mateo County adopt a county-wide sales tax.

The handful of Peninsula communities who have sales tax are a lot better off financially.

A knowing county public relations man tells us that money is an "essential" in politics.

For example, he figures anyone running for county supervisor must spend at least $20,000 to finance a full-fledged publicity campaign.

That kind of dough doesn't grow on trees.

Daly City will get some state-wide acclaim, we're certain, with the addition of Russian languages classes to the Jefferson Adult School curriculum.

Ed Morgan, boss of the high school district, says purchase of the 50-acre Oceana High site in Sharp Park cost about $3700 an acre. For 48 acres in Linda Mar for the Terra Nova High site the outlay was $3100 per acre.

Considering that the average acre in Westlake now is worth $25,000, the high school district got a bargain.

Seven or eight years ago when Westmoor's 60 acres were acquired, the cost per acre amounted to a wee $1695.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, who'll mark his 32nd year as a ctiy employee next April, is Daly City's oldest municipal worker in service.

He started in 1928 and at one time served as assistant superintendent of the water department as well as fire chief (when there were only volunteer firemen).

Elmer's age is a closely guarded mystery. We won't go along with 39. Jack Benny has exclusive rights on this assertion.

782 Attended High School Summer Session

Robert Hyde, principal of the Jefferson High District Summer School, stated in his summer school report to the board of trustees that 782 students were enrolled.

The enrollment was at its highest during the first week of school and declined as the summer continued, he said.

The geographical distribution of the students enrolled was: from Jefferson High School Area, 184; from Westmoor High School area, 201; and 29 from areas outside the district.

Hyde noted that the summer school faculty was originally prepared to handle 685 students. The extra 100 students necessitated the hiring of two new teachers.

The increase in enrollment was 12½ per cent over the previous year. Approximately two-thirds of the students completed courses while the other third dropped out before the end of the session, Hyde noted.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

New Zoning Ordinance Explained By City-Hired Planning Firm

How does Daly City's present zoning ordinance stack up with the new one coming up for adoption as part of the community's Master Plan?

A comparison of the existing and proposed zoning documents was announced this week in a report to the council by the survey firm of Harn, Wise and Barber.

The new zoning ordinance and map is scheduled to come before the planning commission for continued public hearing on Tuesday night, October 13. The council on Monday evening, October 19, will continue the public hearing in the Land-Use plan map—the proposed guide to future zoning which is governed by the "law" laid down in the new zoning ordinance.

Justin F. Barber of the city-hired survey firm offers the following comparision of the city's present and proposed zoning ordinances:

DISTRICTS—

The present ordinance has a total of eight districts, including a "U" District (which in reality is no zoning at all). The new ordinance has eleven districts and allows for a little greater variation in possible types of land use.

Proposed new districts are: a "PM" or Controlled Manufacturing Zone, found to be necessary in the Master Plan Studies; and a Special Use District, or Planned Community Area.

The new ordinance splits the R-3 Zone to "R-3" and "R-4." This results in a very "clean" almost entirely "residential" R-3 District; and relegates professional offices, motels, lodges and clubs to the R-4 Zone.

The new ordinance removes the requirement of securing the Use Permit to construct a duplex in a Duplex Zone.

The new ordinance does not permit single family residential or duplex building in the C-1 Zone (the old one does).

ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL — The new ordinance eliminates the architectural control provisions.

NON-CONFORMING USES —Both ordinances are similar in their treatment of non-conforming uses.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES—The new ordinance does away with "Zoning Permits," which seemed to be an unnecessary requirement.

The new ordinance would permit the Planning Commission to grant Use Permits. The City Council would only be involved in these functions in the event of an appeal from the decisions of the Planning Commission. Since Use Permits and Variances are largely planning items, and since sufficient data has been set forth as criteria in granting these permits they are more properly a function of the Planning Commission.

The new ordinance would permit the Planning Commission to initiate amendments to the ordinance (the present ordinance is not clear on this).

LOT SIZE, YARDS. — The new ordinance increases the minimum building area from 2500 to 3000 square feet, and minimum lot width from 25 to 33 feet. However, 25 foot lots are still permitted in areas where they now exist.

The new ordinance increases the minimum building site from 1100 to 2500 square feet in the Neighborhood Commercial areas and prescribes a 15 foot front yard for these zones.

The new ordinance (except where 25 foot lots prevail) prescribes side and rear yards in all Residential Zones; the old ordinance had no such requirement, except in the "B" Zones.

The "B" District in the proposed ordinance would provide for building sites of 5,000 square feet or more, where desired; depending upon the discretion of the Planning Commission and City Council.

HEIGHT—The height limit in the R-3 Zone is 36 feet in the old ordinance and 35 feet in the new ordinance. However, the new ordinance has a clause to permit relief from height limitations subject to securing a Use Permit.

The new ordinance lowers the single family dwellings from 30 to 25 feet, and the height of accessory buildings (in residential areas) from 15 to 10 feet, where they are within five feet of rear or side property lines.

The height limit in the industrial district will be increased by the terms of the new ordinance from a present re- GAL 2 REZONING ..... quirement of 35 feet to a new height of 50 feet.

BUILDING COVERAGE — The new ordinance reduces building coverage from 60 to 50% of the lot in single family residential areas to lessen the "tenement" effect.

The new ordinance decreases the percentage of lot coverage from 80 to 60% in the R-3 Zones for the same reason.

The new ordinance requires a certain amount of open yard space for each family dwelling unit regardless of the district in which they are built.

DEFINITIONS — The new ordinance has 50% more terms defined than the old ordinance.

MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS — Both ordinances regulate: land use, accessory uses, signs, height limit, building site area, percentage area of lot coverage, and yards.

The ordinance permits different lot sizes for different uses within the same zoning district. whereas the old one, because of the manner in which it is written, only specifies one building site for all uses in any zone.

Except for a small part of the C-2 area, off-street parking is required in all districts in the new ordinance. The present ordinance only requires off-street parking for residential and some "public" buildings, thus adding to traffic congestion in commercial areas.

The new ordinance provides for closer regulation of public utility buildings and power lines.

The new ordinance sets forth a definite procedure for zoning newly annexed territories and approving "suitable" uses on such land during the rezoning period.

Stanford D. Carman Of DC 'Invades' With Marine Unit

Marine Acting Cpl. Stanford D. Carman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Carman, 122 Westdale avenue, Daly City, participated in an amphibious training exercise in the Hawaiian Islands, September 14 to 26, while serving with the First Marine Brigade.

Known as Operation "Clear Ridge," the exercise was a routine training operation involving Navy and Marine Forces, designed to develop proficiency in planning and conducting an amphibious operation.

After a live firing exercise on the island of Kahoolawe, the amphibious troops stormed ashore under simulated battle conditions on the island of Kauai on D-Day, September 20. Helicopters operating from the carrier USS Princeton carried a Marine behind "enemy" lines in hand with the Corps' doctrine of "vertical envelopment." Air support for the operation was furnished by 75 Fury and Crusader jets from Marine Aircraft Group 13.

A recreational visit to Pearl Harbor was made following the exercise.

'Youth Sunday' Due At Portal Lutheran Church

Special morning and evenig services this Sunday, October 4, will highlight West Portal Lutheran Church and School's observance of Lutheran Education Week.

The morning Sunday School rally, to be conducted at 9:45 a.m. in the school gymnasium, will feature a ceremony in which parents and teachers rededicate themselves to the task of bringing up their children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." At this service a number of children will also be administered the Sacrament of Holy Baptism.

In the evening the high school Walther League Society and the college Epsilon Xi chapter of Gamma Delta will hold supper meetings prior to their participation in a 7:30 p.m. Communion service.

"These Youth Sunday services form a fitting climax to Lutheran Education Week," West Portal's pastor, Ihno A. Janssen, Jr., commented, "inasmuch as they center around those people who will soon be the pillars of our church and of American society."

DC Sergeant Teaches College Police Course

Daly City police officers attending City College of San Francisco's course titled Police Procedure see a familiar face when the instructor walks in the door.

Sergeant Jack Walsh, veteran of 12 years with the Daly City police and a member of the faculty at the junior college, teaches the preparation for law enforcement and accident investigation course. It depicts to the student the ordinary steps a policeman takes in his daily work.

Police Procedure covers three sections: recruits' basic training, actual duties and writing reports.

Daly City policemen taking the unit course are Jim Bergstrom, Matthew Murray, Richard Sims and Phil LaBruzzo. Walsh said the course is not mandatory but these DC men are taking it voluntarily.

Another Daly City police sergeant, David Hansen, is taking additional police courses at San Francisco State.

The United Bay Area Crusade is completely "home-owned." 50,000 solicitors, your neighbors, man the campaign.

The Creative Arts Division and the student's Art Club of San Francisco State College will present the first program of the new fall series of Art Movies on Wednesday, October 7, from 12 to 1:00 and from 7:30 to 9:15 on campus in the main auditorium of the Creative Arts Building. Admission is free.

Cats Et Al, a series of short experimentals by the American painter, Robert Breer, in which he uses ultra-rapid montage of photos, newspaper clippings and fluid forms and shapes for a violent impact on the audience.

Bow Bells, British film by Anthony Simmons, is a delightful description of a day in the Limehouse section of London from the moment when the East End bursts into life to the day's end when work stops.

A Short History, a highly amusing animated film from Rumania, presents a subtle commentary on the origins and development of life on earth.

L'Opera Mouffe, one of the most controversial films shown at the 1958 Brussels Film Festival, is a sensitive and highly imaginative documentary of compelling originality.

Apollinaire Ou Le Poete Des Deux Rives is a documentary on the famous French poet Guillaume Apollinaire. Through the images of small French towns, the Paris of the early 1900's, and his many artist and writer friends (Picasso, Gide, Rousseau), the film tells the story of this important figure in Cubism and other art movements.

Thursday's Children, one of the great documentaries of the last decade, is a story of small deaf boys and girls at a school near Margate Kent. Through the animation of young faces and the endless patience of their teachers, methods of communication are shown to open up the minds of these children.

Cancer Society Leader Cites 5500 'Helpers'

The San Mateo county branch of the American Cancer Society has contributed more than an estimated $600,000 through the generous donation of residents of tis area toward the nation's fight against cancer during the past eight year period, it was announced here today.

The report was issued by local headquarters at 320 Third avenue in San Mateo, following a survey of the eight-year period of service of retired President Mrs. Albert A. Hedge of Menlo Park, who is now junior past president.

During those past eight years with the ACS, Mrs. Hedge has been president for three years, county commander (the same post as president) for two years, district chairman for the south county, chairman, and captain for Menlo Park, working a year in the three latter posts.

One of the most active, widely respected, and admired women clic leaders of the county, Mrs. Hedge emphasizes that the outstanding success of the society under her direction as president and county commander "is due entirely to the 5500 volunteers who have worked together year after year, as a dedicated, closely-knit, warmly cooperating unit."

San Mateo county this year again leads the state as the top contributing county on a per capita income basis.

Mrs. Hodge in urging the continuing all-out effort and support of the society's educational and fund drives stressed it is the only sure way to find a cause and cure for cancer.

TV and Radio

Completely delightful tele- sion is "Moochie of the Little eague," the first program in e new "Walt Disney Pre- nts" series which we pre- ewed last week at KGO-TV's udios. The fall series pre- ieres this Friday (Oct. 2) er ABC, KGO-TV at 7:30 m. Disney has taken a back- round of the Little Leagues more than ½ million boys ow participate in the leagues) nd with his magic touch has shioned a program that will ntertain the whole family.

We think this is extremely od and wise television for hildren—taking a wholesome tivity such as the Little eague and building an ab- rbing story around it. Good ews for parents too, who are oncerned about bedtimes — e program is scheduled at an arlier view ing hour.

John Ormond of the Disney udios told us that their fall hows are well balanced with ature, space and cartoon pro- rams in addition to the base- all series. We would like to e Disney concentrate on hese types of shows and leave e "shooting" historical pro- rams (if we must have them) o others. There is a wealth of ackground material in sports ion about which to weave a tory, so Mr. Disney bring us ore "Moochies."

Thought-provoking and de- ghtful television too, was the econd program in CBS's spe- ial series "Woman" titled "Is he American Woman Losing er Femininity?" shown over PIX last week. Filmed main- y in San Francisco, the pro- ram also featured scenes of acifica as a typical American uburb, as well as participants rom S. F. State College. A kilfully produced and absorb- ng program—we would like o see it repeated.

During the past weeks we ave watched closed circuit reviews of the fall programs ver NBC, CBS, and ABC net- works. As we predicted, it romises to be an exciting sea- on—in fact there are so many ew shows it would take a whole column just to list them. ome will continue, others will rop by the wayside. Watch our daily schedules and we rge you—be selective in your iewing. In the end, you the iewer will be the judge. If ou like what you see, write he networks, because, believe e, your letters do carry eight.

Navy Beckons Recent Law School Grads

Chief Ken Gaddis of the Daly City Navy Recruting Station announces that the Navy is seeking recent law school graduates for the Naval Officer Candidate School.

The Navy now allows young lawyers to enter the Naval Officer Candidate School, Newport, R. I., as legal specialists.

Upon completion of the four months OCS Program, the lawyer is commissioned with the mark of Lieutenant Junior Grade and has the prospect of being assigned a Navy billet in the legal field.

The normally stringent eye sight requirements of the Navy are relaxed in the case of legal specialists.

Vision as poor as 20/2000 will normally be acceptable provided that each eye is correctible to 20/20 with glasses.

The graduate of a law school accredited by the American Bar Association may now apply for the Legal OCS program.

Acceptance as a legal specialist is contingent upon the applicant's admission to the bar of a Federal Court or the highest court of the State or Territory of the United States or District of Columbia.

Information regarding the legal program can be obtained by contacting the Navy Recruting Station, 6705 Mission Street, Daly City, PL 6-3740.

INACTIVE DUTY RESERVE NURSES NEEDED BY NAVY

There is a need for additional inactive duty nurses in the Nurse Corps, Naval Reserve, Chief Ken Gaddis, Navy recruiter in Daly City said today.

To the civilian nurse, the inactive duty nurse corps program offers three district advantages.

First, as a naval officer, with all the privileges attached, nurses are offered the opportunity to affiliate in a pay billet with drilling reserve units, which meet once weekly in the evening.

Second, inactive duty Navy nurses can apply for two weeks annual training duty with pay.

Third, through participation with reserve units, Reserve nurses can qualify for Navy retirement benefits.

Chief Gaddis also added that the Nurse Corps, Naval Reserve, also provides new social outlets for local nurses.

Interested professional nurses between the ages of 21 and 39½ with no dependents under the age of 18 are invited to write Navy Nurse, Federal Office Building, San Francisco, or contact the Navy Recruiting Station, 6705 Mission street, PL 6-3740, for more details on the inactive duty reserve nurse corps program.

HANDICAPPED PERSONS STILL GOOD WORKERS

Proclaimed by President Eisenhower and Governor Brown, the week beginning October 4 will be National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, according to Harry Lawlor, prominent San Francisco merchant and chairman of the local committee for its observance.

Lawler is a disabled veteran (he lost a leg in World War II) and well qualified to plead the cause of the disabled job seeker. He points out that NEPH Week is the highlight of year 'round programs designed to assist the handicapped find gainful employment. It is also designed to increasing public understanding of the handicapped problem, to increasing employer acceptance of handicapped workers, and to expanding job opportunities for disabled veterans and civilian handicapped persons.

It was in August of 1945 that Congress passed Public Law 176 designating the first full week in October as NEPH Week. The broad purpose of the legislation was to win support and interest from the public in the employment of otherwise qualified, but physically handicapped workers, and to promote intelligent integration of the handicapped veterans and civilians into the work forces of the factories and offices of every community.

Lending a hand to the local committee will be Goodwill Industries which on Tuesday afternoon, October 6, will hold its annual Open House. Located at 986 Howard street, the entire building will be open to the public. Escorted tours will be taken through the shops and work rooms and the people will see how San Francisco's largest smployer of handicapped persons operates. Ninety-seven per cent of Goodwill's nearly 300 employees are handicapped in one way or another.

Goodwill Industries is entirely self-supporting, relying solely on repairable discards that are donated and then mended and sold in the Goodwill retail stores. Tea and cakes will be served free of charge to those who attend Open House.

Chairman Lawlor noted that the complete story of Goodwill can best be summarized by its five word slogan: Not Charity —But A Chance.

8th District Legion Ladies Meet Next Week

Education and scholarships will be the keynote of the next meeting of the 8th District American Legion Auxiliary, Department of California, to be held in Room 314, Veterans War Memorial Building, Van Ness avenue and McAllister street, next Tuesday, October 6, at 8:30 p.m., announces Mrs. Angelina Castro, president.

Mrs. Bessie McGee, 8th District Education and Scholarship Chairman, will introduce the speaker of the evening, Kenneth Castellino, assistant principal and dean of boys at George Washington High School.

8th District American Legion Auxiliary will also pay tribute to Gold Star Mothers of the 8th District. They will be entertained by the showing of Castle Films of the Gay 90's and historical events of the past such as Teddy Roosevelt and his Rough Riders, scenes of the San Francisco Earthquake of 1906, and other scenes of yester-year. A most pleasant evening is planned and the public is invited to join in this evening of fun. Refreshments will be served.

DOUBLE ring ceremony September 19 at Colma's Holy Angel's Church united Florence Kathrine Benedetti of Daly City and Natale Robert Fobelli Jr. of San Bruno. She is a graduate of Jefferson High and attended College of San Mateo. Her parents are Police Sergeant and Mrs. Ricco Benedetti of 98 Vale street. 4 Questions That Apply To Veterans

Q—The VA is deducting my GI insurance premium payments out of the disability compensation payments I receive. I am moving and am sending a notice of my change of address to the office which forwards my compensation. Should I also notify the VA insurance office?

A—Yes. In case of change of address, where premiums are being deducted from compensation payments, veterans should notify both the office which sends the compensation checks and the one handling insurance.

Q—I closed my GI home loan with a lender in June of 1959, a month before the new 5¼ interest rate became effective. Does the new rate affect me in any way?

A—No. The new law in no way affects veterans who closed their loans before July 2, 1959. You go on making your payments to your lender just as you have been . . . at the interest rate which applied when you closed your loan.

Q—I am a veteran of the Korean War who has been out of service two years. I have a disability I believe is service-connected. If the claim I intend filing with VA is approved, will I be entitled to compensation retroactive to my first day as a civilian?

A—No. Compensation may be made retroactive to a veteran's first day in civilian life only if he applied within one year from his discharge and VA finds the disability was compensable at that time. If a veteran fails to apply within a year from discharge, payments may date from the time of application only.

500 Turn Out For Westmoor PTA's Opener

Five hundred parents and friends met for the first fall meeting of the Westmoor PTA September 24. They were introduced to the staff of teachers and counselors by Glenn South, principal, and Tom Panagoulias, vice principal introduced student body officers.

A color guard from Boy Scout Troop 248, sponsored by Westlake Improvement Association, consisting of John Palm, Martin Jaspovice, Skipper Smith and Richard Giorgetti, presented the flag and led the pledge of allegiance.

The unit voted to continue the Christmas dinner as the major fund-raising project. This will be held in December and interesting items suitable for Christmas gifts will be sold.

After the meeting, parents toured the school and conferred with teachers. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Goodwin.

NEWLYWEDS Patricia Selma Michelsen and Brower Alvin Dimond are residing in Westlake at the Olympia apartments. Both were graduated from Jefferson High. They exchanged vows at Grace Presbyterian Church with the Reverend L. Whelpley officiating. They spent their honeymoon in Carmel.

W'lake-Olympia PTA Committees Formulate Plans

On Monday, September 21, the executive board of the Westlake-Olympia PTA held its first meeting of the year with Morris Liston presiding.

Membership, program, ways and means, and budget committees met all through the summer months so many interesting projects and ideas were presented.

Membership, according to Mrs. Carol Picchi, Olympia chairman, and Mrs. Alberta Siegel, Westlake chairman, will be encouraged by families. One dollar for a single membership and one dollar and a half if both mother and father join.

Mrs. Marian Donovan, program chairman, has done an outstanding job and the first meeting will be in the Westlake School on October 8 at 7:45 p.m. Those in attendance will have the opportunity of hearing Richard Foster, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District, make the evening's presentation.

Several interesting money-raising projects have been planned. Two of these projects are new — a walnut sale before Christmas followed by a flower bulb sale.

Other officers of the organization are the Mesdames Winifred Williams, recording secretary; Ann Witt, corresponding secretary; Jean Perluss, financial secretary; Virginia Headman, treasurer; Theanna Themelis, historian; Eleanor Dunbar, parliamentarian; and Herbert Perluss, auditor.

JEFF HIGH GRIDDERS MAULED BY ENCINAL JETS, 33-0

LOU LUCIA

Jeff High's squad of Daly City took a 33-0 mauling from a powerful Encinal eleven last Friday in Alameda, and luckily draw a bye this week. Play resumes for the Indians October 9, when they travel to meet Cubberley High in a second exhibition.

Only high spots for the Indians were a 25-yard gallop by John Margaroni and a 48-yard pass play from Marty Cosgrove to Steve Anderson. Outside of these two plays on offense the DC team looked futile.

The Jets, a strong club, completely stepped over the lighter, smaller Jeff squad. Four Jeff fumbles, three on first downs, detoured the Indians from starting drives.

Tom White and Andy Brown, a colorful duo, set up the first Jet TD with a 14-yard pass. Zeb Pittman pushed over the final yard. These three were the main offensive exploders all day long.

White and Brown succeeded again in the second period on a 35-yard pass play, Brown scoring after catching the toss behind a defender and scooting the final 10 yards. Wes Moore converted and the Jets had a 13-0 lead.

Pittman's 27-yard dash set up the third TD. He carried the ball himself for the score with all the time being used on the clock. Moore again added the PAT.

White pushed over for a six pointer in the fourth period from one foot out. Jeff's Roger Stahl rushed through blockers to deflect the extra point try.

A fumble on the kick-off and the Jets again had the ball and were raring to go. Pittman's 16-yard gallop placed the ball on the seven. White faded far back and then "alley-ooped" to Brown, who took the ball with three defenders jumping about him. Moore again converted.

Jeff's dormant defense was sometimes led by lineman Bob Nielson, who recovered a fumble and threw runners for losses and Margaroni, who batted a number of passes away.

Jeff only gained 105 net yards to Encinal's 317. The game reached such a lop-sided stage that Encinal did not have to punt through the entire contest.

Football Skills Contest Open To DC Youngsters

Daly City's Department of Parks and Recreation announced today the addition of a "Football Feature Contest" to its expanded fall program.

This contest is a city-wide affair and is open to youngsters from grade three through high school.

Contests will be held in each of the following events: Passing for distance, passing for accuracy, punting for accuracy, punting for distance and place kicking for distance.

Elimination for the city-wide finals will be held at all recreation facilities between October 1 and October 15. City-wide finals will be held at Marchbanks Park on Saturday, October 17, at 11 a.m.

Low, But Consistent

Two comparatively new bowlers in the Daly City Employees League narrowly missed gaining triple crown patches. A triple crown patch is earned by bowling three consecutive same game scores. Gayle Jacob and Josephine Runne both missed by only one pin.

The scores were: Jacob, 67-67-66, and Runne, 98-99-99. Certainly not the highest scores, but surely the most consistent!

Bulldogs Rip SJCC In Opener, 24-0

College of San Mateo rolled to a 24-0 victory in their opening football contest against San Jose City College last Friday night in San Jose.

Two former All-Peninsula players at Jefferson helped lead the Mateans. John Dean and Pete Garcia, two former high school stars, moved into their first college game with success.

Other Jeff graduates at the Peninsula college are end Ted Amikhan and halfback John Marshall.

On tap for the Bulldogs is a 2 p.m. home tiff against the San Jose State Frosh this Saturday.

Indian Lightweight Cagers Open League Against Burlingame

Jefferson High's 110 and 120-pound basketball teams open the Peninsula League season against Burlingame here on Thursday afternoon next week.

Mike Orlich handles the 10's and Rich Warne the 20's. The Jeff teams last year placed second in their respective divisions.

Practice games this week are against Balboa and Lincoln. Next Tuesday the Indian lightweights host Poly in a final practice tilt.

Daly City PAL Nine Wallops SSF, Redwood

Daly City's Police Athletic League All-Star baseball nine climaxed their season with two victories over outside clubs last Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Herb Dyer hurled the DC nine to a rousing 16-7 victory over South San Francisco's PAL All-Stars on Friday. Saturday at Westlake Park the Daly City kids blanked Redwood City's PAL team, 6-0, as Rich Holmberg got the mound triumph.

Against South City, Director Les Bastedo's DC squad got 14 hits. The losers made 11 errors. Jeff Starkovich, Dyer and Rich Pacini led DC with two hits each at the plate.

Bastedo today extended "heartfelt thanks to all PAL coaches for an outstanding campaign."

DC dominated the DC-SSF league. The DC Red Sox won the pennant with 14 wins and no defeats.

Inexperienced Rams, Woodside Vie Friday

Westmoor and Woodside, two pea green schools in the building stage, will collide on Westmoor's field at 2:45 p.m. Friday.

"We're still in the growing stage," said Coach Pete Matisi of Westmoor, adding, "But we should be better than last year." Matisi's Rams feature more running than passing and this is apparent because his line weight average is less than his backfield bull-dozers.

The line averages 155 pounds, the backfielders 165. By the same token, Matisi says the Woodside crew runs from the split "T" and is a very young, light squad. Woodside's interior men average 150 pounds, while the backs carry a windblown 140 pound average.

Matisi is quick to mention he looks to Tom McHugh to provide offensive fireworks from right halfback position. The coach held back judgment on defensive standouts because he "hasn't had too much of a chance to see them in action.

Outside of the first stringers, with Pete Daniels and Ron Petrocchi vying for starting left end, Matisi plans to make ample use of reserves.

Halfbacks Dave Pass and Tom Dake will see offensive action while defensive players are middle guard Bob Villines, tackles Tom Freydlend and Jim Mannion, and defensive end Bernie McCabe.

Starters for the Rams are:

LE—Pete Daniels
LT—Bob Porras
LG—Larry Siegal
C—Jim Wade
RG—Herb Lyons
RT—Andy Saranchock
RE—Chris Hanson
QB—Jim Heick
LH—Walt Prouty
RH—Tom McHugh
FB—Webb Parker

Seniors starting this game of the "W's" are Porras, Lyons, Heick, McHugh and Parker. Westmoor had a 2-7 record last year.

SF Schedules PAL Tourney In Basketball

Plans for a San Francisco wide Police Athletic League basketball tournament for youngsters in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades were announced today by Inspector Milton Piro.

Inspector Piro said the tournament is being scheduled so not to conflict with already established youth leagues.

"We want to give kids a chance to play who can't take part in other tournaments," Piro commented.

Teams will be confined to seven or eight players to assure everyone getting a chance to play, Piro added, and said that uniforms will be provided for players of nearly 100 teams expected to enter the tourney.

The teams are expected to begin play in October in the police gym at 374 Clementina street.

Ralph Schaumleffell, insurance director of the P.A.L., said there would be no entry fee for teams and reported that the youngsters would be covered by a medical insurance policy.

Team entries can be mailed to Inspector Piro at the Hall of Justice, San Francisco.

Davila Paces Jeff Cross Country Team

Jeff High's Anical Davila captured first place last Thursday with an 11:23 minutes race while his teammates took the next six positions to pace Jeff's varsity cross-country team to a 15-50 victory over Mills.

Mills won the frosh-soph part of the duel, 18-44.

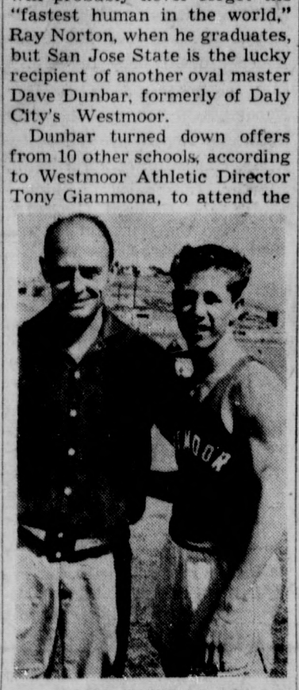
DAVE DUNBAR, 880 STAR, JOINS SJS TRACK 'MASTERS'

Followers of college track will probably never forget the "fastest human in the world," Ray Norton, when he graduates, but San Jose State is the lucky recipient of another oval master Dave Dunbar, formerly of Daly City's Westmoor.

Dunbar turned down offers from 10 other schools, according to Westmoor Athletic Director Tony Giammona, to attend the



. . . DAVE DUNBAR (Right)

State college. Offers from Annapolis, USC and Occidental were pushed aside by Dunbar.

Dashing Dave turned in the fastest 880 yard run in the nation's high school competition last year with a brilliant 1:53.2 timing in the 41st annual California State High School Track and Field meet.

His mark threatened that set by Don Bowden, 1:52.3, a University of California star, who did his speeding for San Jose's Lincoln High.

Westmoor's Bruce Ryner was a consistent second place finisher and only because he was running behind Dunbar. Ryner also has enrolled at San Jose State and will participate as a frosh trackster. Jed Cyr, 440 and relay man, has joined his former Westmoor teammates at San Jose.

Richard Blakemore, a miler, registered at San Francisco State.

Westmoor Beats South City In Cross Country

Westmoor High's defending Peninsula League champion varsity cross country team opened with a 17-40 win over South San Francisco here last Thursday.

Jim Buccelli captured the 1.9 mile race in 10:28. Rams Jack Kyle and Chuck Dake were next at the tape. South SF's Jim Strickland was fourth. Ron Klingler and Jim Sershen also ran for Westmoor.

Westmoor's frosh-sophs won by forfeit. Brandt Larsen, Bill Murrell and John Dyer are Coach Ernie Ribera's best frosh-soph runners to date.

This Thursday afternoon the Rams host San Mateo in another league meet.

Police Athletic League Tourney Prizes To Be Awarded Saturday

By Leon Cohn

The final stages of the Police Athletic League benefit bowling tournament, recently conducted on Johnny Swanson's Westlake lanes, is scheduled this Saturday, October 3, between 3 and 6 p.m.

Many valuable prizes donated by the merchants will be awarded to the top tourney performers. There are so many articles of value that it will be very hard for the lucky ones to make up their minds in selecting their rewards.

Picture yourself being called upon to make your choice after the stove, freezer, washer, dryer and boiler have been taken. All that will be left will be a portable TV, Hi-Fi set, six wrist watches for men and women, government bonds and other items of like value.

The real winners of the tourney are the youth of Daly City.

Fred Bertetta, chairman of the PAL committee, reports that $4400 was raised—enough to take care of the needs of PAL activities for the coming year.

Fred also thanks the merchants for their support in donating "such wonderful merchandise" and the participants for making this first annual PAL bowling tournament a success.

Ten Pin Chatter . . . Bill Murphy of the Armour No. 1 team in the Westlake Dusters loop put together games of 192-171-246 for a 609 series. In the Westlake Five league, Earl Schenk, Seaboard Paper Co., picked up the 7-8-10 split.

Rolling his highest game, a 269, didn't disturb Harry Seith of the Best Foods League. But his teammates did...Dusting off the bench and making him feel like a king was a little too much. His last two games were ...well, we promised not to say!

The award was announced by Warren Wyncoop on his Artvouge Array of Stars show last week. Wyncoop's program now starts at 3:30 p.m. Saturday and lasts until 5 p.m.

Wyncoop announces he will give a brief rundown on the Jeff - Cubberely game over station KOFY, 1050 k.c., this Saturday. His guests will be two All-South Peninsula backs, Rich Trammell and Don Weiseman, fullback and tailback for Sequoia High.

TWO WESTMOOR GRADS DO WELL AS COLLEGIANS

Allene Downey and John West, 1959 graduates of Westmoor High School, were honored by the University of California during the summer with an invitation to attend a one-week seminar created for the purpose of introducing outstanding high school graduates to the field of science education.

After accepting an offer to become a Research Fellow, John was associated with a team of University of California professors for a period of six weeks, working with problems in hormone and enzyme chemistry through rat experimentation. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert West of 1123 Escalero street, Pacifica, John is presently a pre-medical student at San Francisco City College.

Allene, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Allen Downey, 94 Palmdale avenue, Daly City, is presently attending Stanford University.

Herm Kalinin, president of Colma-Vista Grande Aerie No. 1843 of Daly City, announced that this Thursday the group will see movies of old-time prize fights and will have one of the participants of the bouts talk about his boxing career.

Kalinin also said a special social affair will be held October 31, Halloween, and costumes will not be necessary. However, those wearing a costume may capture the prize as the "best dressed."

Other plans call for free turkeys being given away on November 21 to celebrate Thanksgiving, and the annual Kiddies' Christmas party. Kalinin also urges the bowling team rooters to be at Westlake Bowl on Fridays at 6:30.
